L'Arma dei Carabinieri

The corps was created by King Victor Emmanuel I of Savoy in 1726. The corps is headed by the Comando, consisting of the Comandante Generale (a General), the Vice-Comandante Generale (a Lieutenant General) and the Chief of Staff, all located in Rome. The Chief of Staff directs, coordinates and supervises all activities of the force. It directly supervises the Directors of Administration, Health, Engineering, the motor pool and the Veterinary Commission.

The Carabinieri are organised on a territorial basis for law-enforcement missions. The territorial organization represents the core of the institution; it contains 80 percent of the force and is organized hierarchically in five inter-regional, 19 regional and 102 provincial commands. Outside the territorial organisation, the Specialist Mobile Unit Command Palidoro (based in Rome) controls the Mobile Unit Division, the Specialist Unit Division and the ROS.

Mobile Unit

The Mobile Unit Division is located in Treviso and has two brigades tasked with mass manoeuvres during emergencies, defending the nation and participating in military operations abroad. It supports public order and territorial control in urban areas, and contributes to the operations of civil authorities in terms of public safety.

Gruppo di Intervento Speciale (Special Intervention Group)

The GIS is an elite airborne special operations counter-terrorism tactical response unit inside the Italian Carabinieri military police.

Raggruppamento Operativo Speciale (Special Operational Group)

The ROS is an elite unit founded in 1990 to deal with organised crime (Mafia and others), subversive activities, terrorism and more complex types of crime. An anti-crime section is found in every city and district public prosecutor's office.

Corazzieri (Cuirassiers)

The Corazzieri are an elite corps and honour guard of the President of the Italian Republic, located in the Quirinal Palace.

Peacekeeping missions

Carabinieri units have been dispatched on peacekeeping missions, including Kosovo, Afghanistan, and Iraq.

Tasks and responsibilities

The Carabinieri has both military and police tasks as defined in Art.1, Act 2, Law no. 78/2000 and Art 3, Act 2/3, D.Lgs. no. 297/2000.

Its military responsibilities include:

- defence of the nation, its institutions and resources in the case of a national disaster;
- participation in military operations in Italy and abroad, policing operations abroad, and through international mandates and agreements, reconstruction of local police forces in areas where peacekeeping forces are present;
- exclusive function of security and military police for the Armed Forces;
- functions of judicial military police for Military Justice bodies;
- the security of Italian diplomatic institutions including military institutions abroad;
- assistance to military personnel involved in institutional activities in the national territory;
- mobilization services.

Its police responsibilities include:

- functions of judicial and public order and security policing;
- national civilian protection structure guaranteeing continuity of service in disaster areas and aid to the local population.
